 Subject: “ALL in the FAMILY – Crimson Warriors

On 24 May 2017 at Tercentenary Theater in the Harvard Yard, the 2 brothers shown to the left participated in the “Silver Dollar Salute” ceremony. In this long hallowed tradition, a chosen enlisted military person renders the first salute to a newly commissioned military officer who in turn returns the salute and hands the saluter a real silver dollar coin. The presentation of the coin is a token of appreciation for the enlisted member’s guidance and mentoring. In turn, the coin recipient should then follow the military career of the newly-commissioned officer. As a symbol of completing the cycle of leadership, the enlisted service member will give the silver dollar back to the officer receiving the salute if he/she ever reaches flag rank (i.e. general or admiral). 2nd LT Michael Murray (HC-2017) of Dorchester (MA) is receiving his first salute from his younger brother Patrick Murry (HC-2020) who is a cadet in the Army ROTC Paul Revere Battalion which includes Harvard undergraduates. The father of the Murray brothers was a Marine Corps sergeant and their grandfather was also in the Marine Corps during the Korean War. Similarly, my father was a Navy 2nd class petty officer in the Pacific during World War II which was followed by my service in the Navy from the Cold & Vietnam Wars through to Desert Storm and later I personally commissioned my Dartmouth grad son into the US Marine Corps. According to Pew Research, 60% to 80% of all who are or have served in the military over the last several decades have direct family members who were military veterans (i.e. the higher % reflecting more recent times). Thus, my own experience, statistics as well as the above picture reinforces the fact that with few exceptions, there is a strong genetic link with patriotic military service to our country which also is evident among Harvard alumni.

“Faith of our Fathers”

Obviously, father and son military veterans who are also Harvard alumni span generations and typically different conflicts and wars. In these and other military families, the “acorn did not fall far from the oak tree”. However, such familial linkages are relatively few in number and harder to research. Thus, the Harvard father and son veterans discovered to date include:

Crimson Brothers in Arms

Since they tend to serve in the same military conflict, more Harvard alumni veteran brothers were discovered than fathers & sons. Below is an illustrative partial list to date of 23 Harvard brothers (i.e. 52 alumni) in the "Long Crimson Line" who served in our military. Detailed bios & photos (if available) of the below are in files of the Harvard Hall of Heroes & All Other Veterans on the website of the Advocates for Harvard ROTC.
